

Community Associations

Making Neighborhoods Stronger Across Texas

What is TCAA and who are its supporters?

Texas Community Association Advocates, (TCAA) is the public policy voice of community associations and the professionals who serve them.

Our supporters are united by a common mission:

To ensure that Texas community associations function properly for the benefit of all residents, that property values are protected and that community associations are well governed and properly managed to serve homeowners across Texas.

We are the voice for millions of Texas homeowners who choose to live in community associations and want to preserve the value of their home—the greatest asset most Texans will ever purchase in their lifetime.

We believe in responsibility and involvement in working together with public officials on public policy and working to find common ground to benefit homeowners and protect the quality of life of Texas neighborhoods.

What is a community association?

HOAs, POAs, and Condominium Associations are non-profit associations which deliver services that were once the exclusive responsibility of local government. For many single-family communities these include street paving, lighting, pools, parks, trails, entry ways, recreational areas and many other services. HOAs also provide protection against neighborhood deterioration such as abandoned cars, dilapidated homes or yards that are not maintained.

In past generations, the city probably had a city park with a municipal swimming pool and community center where events were held. Often this is no longer the case. For the last several decades, municipalities have shed these responsibilities and costs by requiring developers of new communities to provide services once funded by cities. Most owners choose to live in these communities to give their families first-rate schools, swimming pools, tennis courts, playgrounds and other amenities many could not afford on their own.
